

New Website for Maria Olsen Photo

APRIL 2009. Photographer Maria Olsen has had a new website designed by PRnewsMedia.com. The new www.mariaolsen.com is a makeover of an earlier Flash site, now powered by the Joomla content management system. It features a gallery of selected photos, a portfolio of published works and exhibitions, as well as concise information on services and professional background. Maria contributed herself extensively to the design and content of her new site.

"This site feels good and is easily navigated compared to the earlier site. I have also sharpened some of the business concepts to add clarity and create more attraction for existing and potential customers. I'm quite excited to see how this will be received."
