

Web Development

When it comes to online communication and the Internet, we offer a range of services, from designing and setting up web sites to creating and updating content to hosting and installing web software. We have extensive experience in working with powerful content management systems such as Joomla and WordPress and have delivered a number of complete sites.

The advantage with OpenEye.biz has much to do with cost effectiveness: with our specialist knowledge of communication and our well established international infrastructure — hosting partners, web services and applications, developers, designers, programmers, and technical support — you can be confident that your web requirements are met.

Examples of complete websites delivered by OpenEye.biz include: MicroDrop Aqua, Faroe Agency, Faroe Business Report, Maria Olsen Photo, Bergid Fishing Gear, and OpenEye.biz.
